Reinbold named new Capital Credit Union CEO

BISMARCK, ND – Capital Credit Union today announced Vance Reinbold, chief financial officer, has been selected to serve as Capital Credit Union’s chief executive officer, effective November 1.

Reinbold joined Capital Credit Union in 2006 and was promoted to CFO in 2009.

“Vance is a skilled executive and has played a key role in the credit union’s growth and success,” said Capital Credit Union Board Chair Faye Miller. “His leadership, financial expertise and industry knowledge will help ensure the credit union continues to meet our members’ needs well into the future.”

Reinbold succeeds CEO Debra Gallagher, who announced her retirement earlier this year after a successful 44-year career with Capital Credit Union. Gallagher joined the credit union in 1974 and was named CEO in 1994.

“We are sincerely grateful for Deb’s leadership, dedication to members and commitment to the credit union’s long-term success,” Miller said.

Reinbold earned a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting from Minnesota State University Moorhead and is a certified public accountant. He and his wife Tracey have two grown children and one grandchild.

ABOUT CAPITAL CREDIT UNION

Capital Credit Union, originally chartered in North Dakota in 1936, is a not-for-profit financial cooperative owned by each of its more than 30,000 members and overseen by a member-elected board of directors. Capital Credit Union returns profits to each member through fewer and lower fees, lower loan interest rates and higher savings interest rates. Savings, checking, loan, credit/debit card, and many other financial services and education are offered by Capital Credit Union to member individuals, businesses and other organizations located within a 75-mile radius of Bismarck, Hazen or Fargo, or a 50-mile radius of Beulah or New Salem.
