Capital Credit Union Promotes Shetler

BISMARCK, ND – Brad Shetler was recently promoted to chief lending officer at Capital Credit Union’s Main Office.

In this role, he will oversee Capital Credit Union’s lending culture, credit quality and portfolio management, as well as new business development and ongoing relationship management for the Business Services Department. In addition, he will oversee the consumer and mortgage underwriting departments.

“Brad is well-respected, knows our markets and has the highest integrity with our members and employees,” says Capital Credit Union CEO Jon Griffin. “He is committed to doing what is best for our membership every day and, in this new role, will continue to be an integral part of helping our members grow and thrive.”

Shetler graduated from the University of Mary in 2008 with a bachelor’s degree in business administration. He has been with Capital Credit Union for 14 years, most recently as Bismarck-Mandan market president. He and his wife, Nicci, live in Bismarck with their son, Bryson.

ABOUT CAPITAL CREDIT UNION

Capital Credit Union, originally chartered in ND in 1936, is a not-for-profit financial cooperative owned by each of its more than 30,000 members and overseen by a member-elected board of directors. They offer personal and business financial solutions including auto, home equity and mortgage loans, checking and savings accounts, business loans and more to individuals and businesses located within a 75-mile radius of Bismarck, Hazen or Fargo, or a 50-mile radius of Beulah or New Salem.
